

Fernanda Lemos de Lima is Associated Professor of Greek Philology and Literary Theory at the State University of Rio de Janeiro (Universidade do Estado do Rio de Janeiro - UERJ). She teaches Greek Language and Greek literature in undergraduating courses. At the postgraduate level, she teaches at the State University of Rio de Janeiro and at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro. She is the director of the UERJ Modern Greek Studies Program. She has written a book on Greek language, "Thinking in Greek - Method of Modern Greek 1" and has presented papers on ancient and modern Greek language and literature. In 2017 she published the book "Greek Culture by Language: A Panorama of the Teaching of Greek Studies at the State University of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil" In N. Tsitsanoudi - Mallides (ed.) Greek Language, Culture and Media. From antiquity to the present day. Athens: Gutenberg, and she will publish "The Greek Language and its Teaching" in the e-book Proceedings of the Greek-Brazilian Symposium, 30/11/16. University of the State of Rio de Janeiro (Universidade do Estado do Rio de Janeiro), Instituto de Letras, University of Ioannina, Department of Early Childhood Education. She is the author and editor of fourteen books in Brazil.

President and rapporteur in international and Brazilian conferences and symposia. In 2016 she has presented "The Greek language today and its spread in Brazil" at the 2nd Summer University "Greek Language: Promoting Educational and Cultural Activities", with the support of the Harvard Center for Greek Studies, the University of Ioannina and the Orthodox Academy of Crete - Chania (Kolymbari), 16-22 / 8. She is a member of scientific conferences / symposia committees for the new Greek language. In 2016 she was a member of the Scientific Committee of the Greek-Brazilian Symposium at the State University of Rio de Janeiro, organized by the Department of Greek Studies (Instituto de Letras) and University of Ioannina, Department of Early Childhood Education (30/11/16). She was a member of the scientific committee of the 2nd Summer University "Greek Language, Culture and Media" organized by the University of Ioannina in Andros (10-16 / 7/16) and Crete (16-23 / 8/16) and of the 3rd Summer University "Censorship against reason and judgment", organized by the University of Ioannina, Andros (9-16 / 7/17).

She is an artist and studies fine arts at the State University of Rio de Janeiro. In July 2019 she has produced an art action named "who is the other" with works by other Brazilian artists in Syros. In November she will present a project in Efêmera contemporary art exhibition, in Rio de Janeiro.